

The J cancels 'Ballyhoo' this weekend

Posted by Bob Evans

"The White Theatre at The J is committed to the health and safety of our patrons, and we have been closely monitoring the evolving Coronavirus (COVID-19) situation.

Our current plan is to continue with performances scheduled for March 21-22. Because circumstances are rapidly developing and evolving, we will continue to evaluate the situation and keep you informed as to any further adjustments in our schedule. As another option, we are exploring the ability to stream the performance to our audiences remotely through a secure video link."

The best place to check for updates is on our web site, the jkc.org and the theatre's site, TheWhiteTheatre.org.

Thanks for your interest and understanding!
