

TYA opens with 'Chicken Little'

Theatre for Young America

THEATRE FOR YOUNG AMERICA PRESENTS

CHICKEN LITTLE THE MUSICAL

Theatre for Young America presents Chicken Little The Musical at Union Station City Stage. Chicken Little runs at Theatre for Young America October 16th to November 10th, 2018. Theatre for Young America offers this production that is directed by Artistic Director Valerie M. Mackey. The cast features the talents of Kyra Weinberger, Eric Johansen, Mikala Sullivan and Franci Witte.

Chicken Little is a musical theater version of the timeless fable about panic in the barnyard when Chicken Little mistakenly announces that the sky is falling. Along with the Rooster, the Goose and the Fox, the little chicken sings and enacts the whole story because these animals happen to be an ambitious musical group, The Chicken Little Band. A farcical romp full of mistaken identities and comical confusion arising from thoughtless panic and following the wrong leader.

Curriculum connections: folktales, music, agriculture, group psychology, live theatre.

Performances take place on the City Stage, located on level B in Union Station. Union Station is located at 30 W. Pershing Road, Kansas City, MO.

Season, single, or group rate tickets may be reserved by calling Theatre for Young America at 816.460.2083. Group and single tickets may also be purchased from Union Station at 816.460.2020 or reserved online at www.unionstation.org. The single ticket price is $12.00. Groups of 15 or more are $5.50 per person with a reservation. For information about our season or other programming visit our website at www.tya.org.

Theatre for Young America is a professional theater company, which primarily employs local actors, many of whom are members of Actors Equity Association.

Theatre for Young America, Inc., is a not-for-profit 501(c)(3) corporation. Gifts are tax deductible.